Speaking at his press conference yesterday right in the heart of Moscow U. S. Ambassador William H. Standley voiced publicly just what newspaper readers have been noting privately for the past year.

British Resume Air Attacks on German Targets

London, March 9 (AP)—A strong force of RAF bombers attacked Nuremberg and targets in western Germany last night, the air ministry announced today.

"Last night aircraft of the bomber command were out in strength over southern Germany with Nuremberg as the main objective," the communiqué said.

Nuremberg was last hit by Allied planes in a heavy raid on the night of Feb. 25.

Seven bombers failed to return from last night's raid. One German plane which attempted to intercept the British bombers was shot down, the announcement said.

Some four motorized Lancasters participated in the attack, and at least two squadrons of Canadians took part.

"The German high command, in a communiqué broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, asserted 17 planes were shot down, but failed to make clear whether this score was supposed to be the result of defense against the night raiders alone or against yesterday's day raiders and the night bombers. The Germans previously had said that eight of the night raiders were shot down.

"In the attack on Nuremberg, it said, 'the population sustained losses. Major damage was done, especially in residential quarters and public buildings. Some places of cultural and historic interest were destroyed.'"

A Canadian flier on the raid said "I saw one really big explosion at least 20 times the size of the usual heavy bomb burst."

Nuremberg is one of the chief German centers for production of the Diesel engines which power submarines and factories there also produce armored vehicles, aircraft engines, electric motors searchlights and firing devices for mines. There is also a Messerschmitt factory at Furtwangen in the Nuremberg area.

The number of planes which the Nazis claimed to have destroyed indicated in itself that the raid was carried out in force. This was borne out by observers on the British south coast, who said they had heard a steady procession of bombers heading toward the continent for more than an hour last evening.

The Vichy radio said British planes also were over the Netherlands.

House Kills Move for 'Name' Coach

Little Rock, March 9 (AP)—With apparent disinterest the Arkansas House definitely killed today a Senate resolution recommending that University of Arkansas trustees hire a "name coach" at a salary of $12,000 a year "to lift Arkansas' name to the heights of athletic glory."

Only 25 of the 100 House members voted for the resolution on a rising count and Speaker Robert W. Griffith held the measure had failed since it did not receive a majority of 51 votes.

Rep. Eugene Coffelt, Benton county, said he doubted whether the mere raising of the coach's salary would produce a winning team. The Arkansas head coach now receives $6,000 a year.

Presbyterian Men to Meet Tuesday

Monthly Supper Meeting of the Presbyterian men of the church, will be held Tuesday night of this week at 7:30 o'clock.

The guest speaker will be Prosecuting Attorney Lyle Brown.

Members and friends of the Men's group are cordially invited to attend and enjoy a period of fine fellowship.

French Patriots Battle Openly in Streets of Paris

London, March 9 (AP)—French patriots battled openly in the streets of Paris and other French cities as the collaborationist French government shipped 50 contingents of French workers from Marseilles to Germany. Fighting French and Vichy sources reported yesterday.

Heightening unrest was reported sweeping France as the Gestapo and Vichy police attempted to fulfill a promise of 400,000 French workers for Germany made by Chief of Government Pierre Laval to Adolf Hitler recently.

In Paris guerrillas overpowered corner sentries in the Rue de la Bourse and seized a garage which they held for more than an hour despite determined attacks before setting a fire which destroyed all vehicles. Fighting French quarters in London said.

Twenty-three German officers were killed by guerrillas at Lille and four other attacks have been made on German-occupied buildings in the past three days, the fighting French reported. The Vichy radio reported the shipment of French workers without disclosing the total number of persons involved.

The London "Daily Express" said Hitler had ordered that France be stripped of every able-bodied male between 18 and 40 who might join the Allied forces in the event of a landing in France, and declared the order applied to men up to 50 who are not working directly for the Nazis.

Coffee houses, movies and even private homes are being combed by the Gestapo for men who can be transported to Germany, the paper said.

The Dakar radio said 200 French people, most of them women, were arrested in the Lyons and Marseilles regions when they tried to stop trains that were taking workers to Germany.

Junior Can Have Scout Knife Back

By KENETH L. DIXON
Washington, March 9 (AP)—Give your junior back his scout knife and tell him it's safe to come into the kitchen again.

Or if you to cut cake because you couldn't slice bread, your angel food days are over.

This may seem pretty thick — just as you got the old kitchen crosscut sharpened up — but the government ban on bakery-slice bread has been lifted, effectively immediately.

And (such a crust they got) it all came about right when a bunch of tricky how-to-slice-your-own devices were beginning to take the edge off what General Sherman said about war.

Food Administrator Claude R. Wickard rescinded the antislicing ban late yesterday — after nearly two knuckelknocking months — explaining that its disadvantages outweighed its advantages. The idea, he said, had been that sliced bread required more wadded paper. But it developed it wasn't saving so much after all, and besides there is quite a bit on hand.

That, of course, was the intended advantage, along with some contemplated savings on slicing machines which apparently turned out to be pretty thin.

The disadvantages? Well, you can slice your own from here on but hacking from left to right, these were a few of the harried housewives and protecting congressmen listed:

Bread knives were hard to get; when you got them it took time to learn how to use them; after that, it took more time to slice the bread daily; if the knives were too dull they wouldn't cut, and it too sharp they took a toll of fingertips; and the time lost and injuries resulting cost the nation many a man-hour.

And besides, no matter how you sliced them, it seemed the hand-carved chunks still got caught in the toaster.

Senate Goes Into Executive Session

Little Rock, March 9 (AP)—In an apparently pre-arranged move the Senate went into executive session this morning to discuss "matters of vital importance to the state of Arkansas."

The action was taken on motion of Senator G. W. Lookadoo, Arkadelphia, a leader of the powerful economy bloc which has prevented major appropriation bills from receiving the required number of votes.

40% of Men Called to Army Are Rejected

Washington, March 9 (AP)—One reason why the manpower pinch is going to hit some homes sooner than generally expected: The number of rejections under Selective Service now is running more than 40 per cent of those examined, the War Manpower Commission says.

Here's the record: Approximately one-half of the first 2,000,000 registrants examined were rejected for physical, mental or educational reasons. Of those rejected as physically or mentally unfit, nearly 21 per cent were turned down for dental defects, nearly 14 per cent because of their eyes.

Then, early last year, the Army lowered its eyesight and dental standards. The rejection figure for the period of May through December was a shade over 34 per cent.

The new increase is attributed to a trend to older men, including married men without children.

Axis Withdraw After 6 Cracks at Allied Lines

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, March 9 (AP)—Marshal Erwin Rommel, beaten back when he attempted six assaults from the Marethe line in Southern Tunisia on Saturday, has withdrawn his forces deeper into his defenses before General Bernard L. Montgomery, an Allied headquarters communiqué announced today.

Axis Withdraw After 6 Cracks at Allied Lines

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, March 9 (AP)—Marshal Erwin Rommel, beaten back when he attempted six assaults from the Marethe line in Southern Tunisia on Saturday, has withdrawn his forces deeper into his defenses before General Bernard L. Montgomery, an Allied headquarters communiqué announced today.

Fifty of the Axis chieftain's tanks were destroyed or captured in the six short, fierce actions on Saturday, the communiqué said, raising the total from the previous figure of 33.

In the northern sector the Germans also were forced to withdraw yesterday after making an attack near Tamerza, seven miles west of Sedjenane, the communiqué said. About 200 prisoners were captured before the enemy called off his attack.

About 100 miles northwest of the Marethe line, French forces occupied Tozeur, 50 miles southwest of Gafsa, above the Chott Djerid. Allied patrols were reported operating on the outskirts of Gafsa itself, however.

Rommel, smashed back in his experiment in attacking his Nemeis, the British Eighth Army, was said to have pulled into the high ground about Hallouf and to be continuing his retreat.

There was no indication that Montgomery was undertaking a pursuit, however, and the communiqué said that only patrol activity was engaged in yesterday by the Eighth Army.

The tanks abandoned by the German strategist in front of massed British guns and armor and under a heavy aerial pounding consisted of three Mark II, two Mark III, eight new type Mark III, 19 Mark II specials and 18 Mark IV specials, the communiqué said. The new type Mark III's were said to be equipped with 75mm. cannon.

In the air fighter bombers and fighters of the western desert force poured bombs and gunfire on Rommel's retreating armor and transport and inflicted considerable damage, the communiqué said. Other Allied fliers carried out similar attacks in the Sedjenane area where buildings occupied by troops were blown up.

While on a sea sweep bombers and fighters encountered a large formation of Axis planes and shot down 17 of them, the communiqué said.

A broadcast by a CBS correspondent from North Africa said 50 planes were in the Axis formation and that Flying Fortresses shot down 10 of them and Lightning fighters shot down seven.

Two Allied aircraft are missing from yesterday's operations, it was announced.

House Refuses More Funds to Hospital

Little Rock, March 9 (AP)—School and welfare forces combined today to defeat the Middleton bill providing $100,000 a year additional liquor revenues for the University of Arkansas Medical School and hospital in Little Rock. The vote was 28-42.

The $100,000 would have to come from monies now going to the school counseling and welfare funds and would have increased medical school funds to $400,000 annually.

Before the final roll call, Reps. Forrest Rozzell, Pulaski, leader of House school forces, and Roy Riales, Polk, supporter of welfare legislation, failed in efforts to attach an amendment giving the teacher salary aid fund an added $100,000 annually from liquor revenues.

Hospital supporters charged the amendment would kill the bill, throwing final consideration into closing hours of the session.

As the general assembly went into its last three days of the session, amendments would be proposed.

Metropolitan Opera Star Dies Today

New York, March 9 (AP)—Alice Nilesen, 66, former soprano star of the Metropolitan opera who sang with the late Enrico Caruso, died yesterday at her home after a short illness.

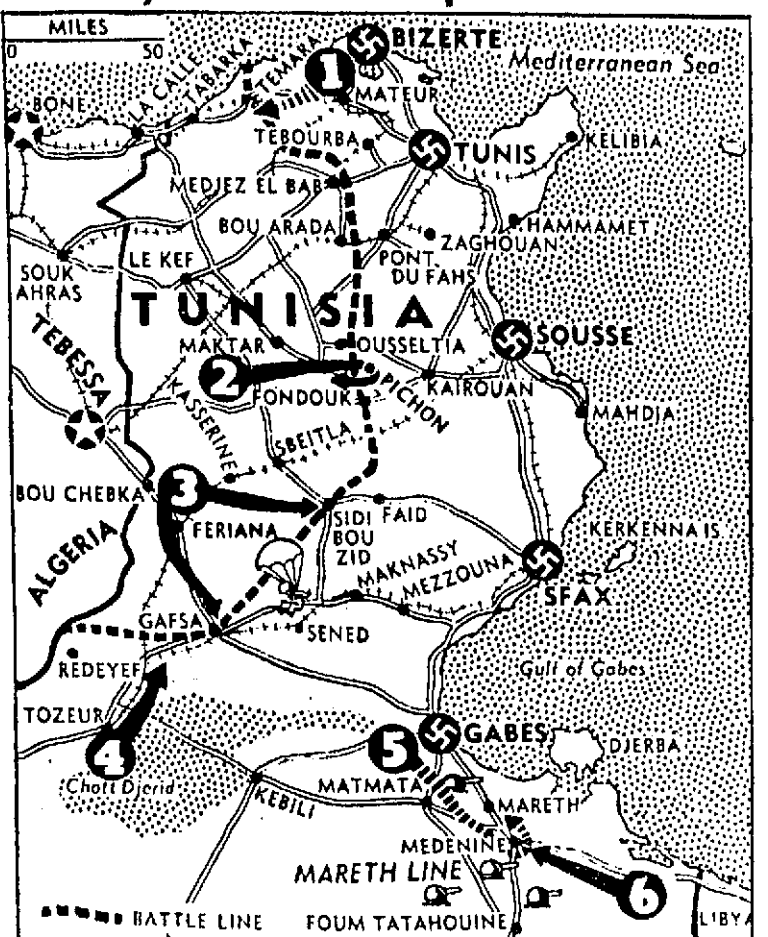

A native of Nashville, Tenn., Miss Nilesen began her career as a street singer in Kansas City, Mo., when she was only seven years old.

She organized her own light opera company and her fame as a singer became so widespread that in 1898 Victor Herbert announced he had written "The Fortune Teller" and two other operettas especially for her.

U. S. Stronger Than Ever in Pacific—Knox

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today that American forces are stronger than they ever have been in the Solomon Islands area while throughout the South Pacific the Japanese are having increasing difficulty in supplying their island bases.

Such losses of shipping strength as the Japanese suffered in the battle of the Bismarck sea and as they have had throughout the war due to American submarine attacks, Knox told a press conference, are all a part of the process of attrition which he said is "a most serious factor" in Japan's military future.

Without adequate shipping, the secretary explained the Japanese cannot maintain their South Pacific bases in many instances and he added in this connection that "our submarine campaign continues to be very successful."

He was asked whether it would be proper to say that the enemy is having extreme difficulty in moving supplies and replied that he would say the Japanese are having increasing difficulty.

Meanwhile, Knox said in response to other questions, "We're growing stronger than we have ever been in the Solomon area."

He added that the United States is "not a bit" worried about the Japanese airbase at Munda on New Georgia island in the Central Solomons and said that the purpose of bombing it almost daily is to keep the Japs from using it to interfere with American plans.

He declined to discuss what those plans might be.

"Every Japanese base has potentialities of danger," Knox said. "If the Japanese were to come down against the Southeastern Solomons again, I suppose Munda probably would be one of the bases they would use."

The Pacific situation generally, Knox said, is "in a state of suspended animation."

Ruml Backers Carry Fight to House Floor

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Washington, March 9 (AP)—Undismayed by two setbacks in the House Ways and Means committee, Republican supporters of the Ruml pay-as-you-go income tax plan reformed their lines today to continue their battle on the House floor.

The issue cut across party lines, some Republicans describing the Ruml "skip a year" proposal as "the only practicable and fair" current tax payment method, and another saying it would create "war millionaires."

Meanwhile Ways and Means members searched feverishly for a compromise that would cancel a substantial part, but not all, of one tax year in easing the transition to a current collection system.

They were ready to vote on a proposal by Rep. Robertson (D-Va.) that the 6 per cent normal and first bracket surtax of 13 per cent be abated on 1942 income for all taxpayers, meaning complete measure of last year's obligations for 70 per cent of the taxpayers, all in the low income bracket. The treasury is understood to look with favor on this plan.

The proposal by Beardley Ruml, New York banker, to skip a tax year was rejected yesterday for a second time, 16 to 9, with nine Republicans supporting it and 15 Democrats and one Republican, Rep. Gearhart of California, in opposition.

Emerging from the tense committee chamber, Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) announced then nine Republicans were prepared to carry the fight to the House.

"We believe that the country wants immediate favorable action on the Ruml proposal," Knutson said. "We wish to say furthermore we are definitely opposed to any alleged pay-as-you-go proposal which involves collection of all or any part of the 1943 liability in addition to current taxes."

Gearhart said the Ruml plan would release $115,000,000 of income from taxation, and added "I do not think we have any right to do that, especially this year when our country needs money to win the war, more than it ever needed money in its history."

He contended war millionaires "will sprout like mushrooms" if the plan is adopted.

Elderly Son of John McClellan Dies

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Senator John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) was notified today that his elderly son, Max, is dead in North Africa, Corpsman Max E. McClellan, 27, died of spinal meningitis.

He enlisted in the army last July and took part in the African invasion in November.

The news came a few hours after former Senator Clyde L. Herring of Iowa was notified that his son, Captain Clyde E. Herring, is missing in action on the Tunisian front.

Advance Nearer German-Held City of Vyazma

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, March 9 (AP)—The Red Army, driving west of recaptured Sychevka, the central front west of Moscow, has reached the Dnieper river northwest of the important German base of Vyazma, it was disclosed today.

A dispatch to the Communist party newspaper Pravda from this sector pointed out that Russian troops pressing hard on the heels of the Germans gave them no respite and drove to the waterway which extends from the central front down through the Ukraine past Kiev and Nieperopolovsk to the Black Sea.

The Russians were already east and northeast of Vyazma after advancing through Gzhatsk.

(The German high command, in a communiqué recorded by the Associated Press from broadcasts, said today that the German attack in the Kharkov area of Russia was still making progress and had resulted in clearing the enemy from more miles of communication.

(German commentators yesterday said the Axis had advanced to within 12 miles of Kharkov.

(German broadcasts based on information from the high command, indicated further retreats west of Moscow were being carried out "according to plan notwithstanding enemy attempts to disturb them."

(Heavy fighting, with the Russians on the offensive, was reported on three sides of Orel, to the northwest, southwest, south and southeast, with the Russians pressing particularly heavy attacks in the northwestern direction where the "fighting" was full of vicissitudes," one broadcast said.

Severe fighting also was reported both to the north and south of Staraya-Russia, northwest of Moscow.

The capture of Sychevka, 35 miles north of Vyazma on the railway to Rzhev, was announced in a special communiqué last night, and the offensive then lashed west and southwest from Sychevka, it was indicated.

Hitting hard along the railroad between Gzhatsk and Vyazma, the Soviet forces battered their way into the railway station of Sergo-Ivanovskaya, 24 miles northeast of Vyazma, while advance mobile units of the Red Army in the sector west of Gzhatsk thundered into 20 villages along the old Smolensk road.

All of these drives fast were building a Russian arc about Vyazma, last of the German bastions to stand in the old Rzhev-Vyazma Velikiye Lukki triangle.

South of this front, the Russians said they took more settlements west and south of Lgov, below Avel, in the latter area the Germans were reported throwing in troops in a series of furious counterattacks, using forces they have been able apparently to shift from other fronts.

Although the Germans seem to have been able to attain numerical superiority in some sectors, no dispatches from the front have confirmed the German assertions that some of their units have stormed to within 12 miles west of Kharkov.

The Russians, however, still were on the defensive southwest of Voroshilovgrad as the Germans mounted heavy attacks supported by tanks and planes, although dispatches said that the Germans had been beaten back.

It was left here that if the Germans have been able to attain superiority in this sector of the Donets basin, where communications facilities are limited, it is not unreasonable to assume that they have been able to do the same thing to the north, where there are better transport facilities.

Elberta Peach Crop Lost at Nashville

The Nashville News, published in the heart of the world-famous Highland peach orchard, reports that last week's hard freeze (9 degrees above zero in Hope) is believed to have killed the 1943 Elberta peach crop in its entirety. It was the coldest temperature ever recorded for March in southwest Arkansas.

"If the crop is a total loss," says the News, "it will be the third complete loss in 40 years. The Beauty peaches are believed to have fared much better than the Elbertas, however, and there are still hopes that some of these peaches may be produced for the market."

The abstruse weighs less than 15 pounds; yet has a wingspread of almost 12 feet.

More than half a dozen separate races of orang-utan are recognized in Borneo.

Hesterly-McLarty Wedding

The late winter wedding of Miss Helen Frances Hesterly, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hesterly of Prescott, and Lt. Thomas Franklin McLarty Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Franklin McLarty of Hope, was brilliantly solemnized at 5:30 Sunday afternoon, March 7, at the First Baptist Church in Prescott. The Rev. E. P. J. Garrett, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Fan of Woodwardia fern and cherry laurel trees made a background for the elaborate decorations of the church altar and chancel. The vows were exchanged before a white wrought iron arch handsomely decorated with white gladioli and lilies. A beautiful white gladiolus tree in the center of the altar flanked on either side by tall tiffany baskets of gladioli, from which cascaded garlands of Easter lilies. Twelve seven branch candelabra holding unadorned tapers, and additional baskets of gladioli completed the altar decorations.

Garlands of white gladioli and Easter lilies with soft bows of white satin ribbons marked the pews down the two central aisles leading to the altar. Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Dolph Brewer, pianist, and Mrs. James A. McLarty Jr., of Hope and aunt of the bridegroom. Mrs. Brewer played "Serenade" (Schubert); "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" (Victor Herbert); "I Love You Truly" (Bond); and "The Rosary" (Nevin); Mrs. McLarty sang "I Love Thee" (Criegel); and "Because" (Guy d'Hardelot). Liszt's "Liebestraum" was played softly during the exchange of vows and the traditional wedding march was used as processional and recessional.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in her romantic gown of ivory slipper satin, designed with a basque bodice featuring a sheer yoke outlined with imported Chantilly lace. The long fitted sleeves were topped by short puffs at the shoulders. Deep scallops with satin bows appeared around the hem line if the fully hooped skirt. Chantilly lace ruffles formed the graceful train. The bride's long veil of matching bridal illusion fell in tiers from a halo of seed pearls and covered the full length of her train. She carried an heirloom hand-made rose point lace handkerchief, belonging to her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Hesterly of Prescott.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white star light roses interlarded with blue and pink and white carnations, tied with a rosette of white maline. She had a lucky six pence in her shoe.

Mrs. James Frank McWilliams Jr., of Dumas, and Mrs. Henry Gillingham of El Dorado, attended the bride as matrons of honor. Miss Kula Makris of Pine Bluff, Miss Sara Stephenson of Prescott and Arkadelphia, cousin of the bride, Miss Helen Whitaker of Prescott, and Miss Sara Ann Barham of Little Rock and Fayetteville, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore identical low basque dresses of net, with short puffed sleeves and sweetheart necklines. Their Priscilla bonnets were shirred in a halo effect across the front.

The two matrons of honor carried beautiful bouquets of pink carnations cascading through tufts of pink maline. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink carnations cascading through tufts of blue maline.

Thomas Franklin McLarty of Hope served his son as best man. Ushers were Charles Addison Hesterly of Prescott and Conway, cousin of the bride, Lt. Smith Price Jr., of Longview, Texas; Lt. Q. B. McMahon of Houston, Texas; James Canley, Rufus V. Herndon Jr., and Charles Harrell all of Hope.

A reception was held at the Hesterly home following the wedding, for only the immediate family and intimate friends. Mrs. Hesterly and Mrs. McLarty, mother of the bridegroom received with the bride and the bride's attendants. Mrs. Hesterly wore a dawn blue and cerise sheer wool, with which she wore a white orchid corsage. A natural straw hat and black accessories completed her costume. The bridegroom's mother wore a model of navy blue crepe with dusty rose lace trim. She pinned an orchid at her shoulder. Her hat was of dusty rose. Mrs. Addison Thomas of Prescott, grandmother of the bride, wore a black dress with white lace trim and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. J. B. Hesterly, aunt of the bride, presided over the cake. Serving punch were Mrs. H. B. de Lamar, Mrs. Frank Turbeville, Mrs. A. F. Williams, Mrs. Blake Scott, and Mrs. Watson White Jr., all of Prescott. Assisting were Miss Mary Dell Waddle, and Miss Katherine Rising of Hope, cousins of the groom, Mrs. Thompson Evans Jr., of Hope and Wichita Falls, Texas, and Miss Rosalyn Hall of Hope. Mrs. Byron Rhodes Moore of Little Rock was in charge of the bride's bouquet.

Lt. and Mrs. McLarty departed for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Mineral Wells, Texas where Lt. McLarty is stationed at Camp Wolters. The bride traveled in a three-piece suit.

Mrs. McLarty, who is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Hesterly of Prescott, attended Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., and the University of Ark., where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. Lt. McLarty attended Riverside Military Academy, Gainesville, Ga., and Hollywood-by-the-Sea, Florida. After spending ten months on foreign duty, he was sent to officers candidate school, Ft. Benning, Ga., where he received his commission on March 3rd.

There were many out of town guests for the wedding from Hope, Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Oklahoma City, Texarkana, Shreveport, La., El Dorado, and other towns.

There's one more story, one of many, about Peter Manning, who sticks in the mind. In 1929, after ten years of racing, traveling from track to track, and living in box stalls, the veteran, finally was turned out in a pasture at Lawrence Sheppard's Hanover farm. At first he didn't know what to do, then he started around the paddock, trotting faster and faster, until he was going at a speed he never attained on the track. Tiring of that, he found a mudwallow and rolled in it, staining his glossy bay coat with mud and grass. At nightfall, he refused to give up his newfound freedom, but late that night a groom made another attempt to coax the horse into the barn and Peter Manning, rubbing his nose against the man's shoulder, put his head in position for the halter and docilely walked to his stall.

Peter Manning is dead, and horse lovers will regret his passing. But, after all, he must have had a pretty good life for a horse.

Phillies Start Trading, Buy Babe Dahlgren

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, March 9 —(AP)—The Phillies in their first "big deal" under the new regime of Bill Cox and Bucky Harris today traded infielder Lloyd Waner to the Brooklyn Dodgers for first baseman Ellis (Babe) Dahlgren.

"It was a straight trade, with no cash involved," declared Cox, youthful 33-year-old president. "I think it's a peach of a deal. It's our first and I hope there will be more."

Cox and Harris visited Branch Rickey, head of the Dodgers, at Brooklyn over the weekend. The trade was arranged yesterday, Cox said, but he and Rickey agreed not to announce anything until today.

Asked whether the deal was made contingent on Dahlgren playing, Cox replied: "No, we took the gamble. We have every reason to believe that Dahlgren will play. For that matter Brooklyn took two gambles."

He referred to the fact that Glossop and the veteran Waner had not signed the contracts sent to them by ex-President Gerry Nugent because he resigned.

In acquiring Dahlgren, who gained fame with the New York Yankees as successor to Lou Gehrig, the Phillies got a combination first and third baseman who always hit well on the team's home diamond, Shibe Park.

"I can play Dahlgren at either first or third," Harris said. "Right now it looks like he may start at third with Levy on first, Danny Muraugh on second and Bobby Bragan at Short. Of course that setup is subject to change any minute."

Dahlgren, 31, has been buffeted around since the Yankees sold him to the Boston Braves in 1940. The next year the Braves peddled him to the Chicago Cubs. Last year the Cubs sold him to the St. Louis Browns, a deal that was later cancelled. The Cubs then sold him to Brooklyn where he spent most of the time on the bench.

Early this year the Dodgers sold him to Indianapolis of the American Association, but Commissioner K. M. Landis ruled out the deal on the ground he was being sent to a minor league club for less than the waiver price. The Boston Red Sox brought him up to the majors from the Pacific Coast League eight years ago.

Glossop, who came up as rookie last year from Kansas City of the American Association, played second base for the Phillies and hit .224. The veteran Waner, who signed with the Phillies last year as a free agent, did not play in many games.

Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, March 9 —(AP)—Many of you didn't notice a little item in the papers the other day saying that Peter Manning had died at Hanover, Pa. . . He was 27, a ripe old age for a trotting horse. . . Perhaps you don't even remember Peter Manning, but two decades ago he held the same place in the hearts of harness racing fans that Greyhound holds today . . . a champion of champions, a holder of records . . . a big, well-proportioned horse with a shining light bay coat, he was a symbol of the attraction that harness racing holds for men, even city folks who couldn't hitch up a horse on a bet.

It was back in 1918 that William M. Wright of Chicago gave two-year-old gelding, bred on his Libertyville, Ill., farm, his first trial over a mile track in Milwaukee. . . Peter Manning was timed in 2:10 then an when he went to Lexington, Ky., the next spring he was regarded as a favorite for the Kentucky futurity. . . Peter didn't race at Lexington, but Tommy Murphy, the famous reinsman, sent him through a time trial in 2:06 1/4 and as a result Irving Gleason of Williamsport, Pa., brought the horse and put him under Murphy's care. . . From then until he retired, Peter Manning was virtually unbeatable. . . He whipped the great pacer, Single G, in a match race at Hartford, Conn., in 1921, passing him with a blinding burst of speed. The next year Peter lowered the world mile record from 1:58, made by Uhland, to 1:56 3/4, a record that stood until Greyhound reached 1:56 in 1937. . . In 1925 Peter Manning went after the Harvester's two-mile record of 4:15 1/4 that had stood for 15 years and, trotting only against time, lowered it to 4:10 1/4. . . That mark also fell to Greyhound years later.

Although William Wright had only the satisfaction that comes from breeding a champion, it was Peter Manning who caused him to establish one of the great horse breeding establishments, Calumet Farm. . . After stocking the farm with the best stallions and mares available and making it one of Kentucky's show places, Wright bought Glendora G, Peter Manning's dam, and gave her a home there as long as she lived. . . Calumet has turned to racing horses now, but it still is one of Kentucky's greatest homes of fast horses.

Says Layoff Will Be Good for Minors

By HROLD V. RATLIFF

Dallas, March 9 —(AP)—J. Walter Morris, who has been in baseball as player, manager, club owner, league president and scout for 42 years, thinks the minors will profit from their layoff during the war.

In fact, he believes it came at just the right time, that professional baseball has been sick and needs a rest cure and that during the breathing spell it will get its feet on the ground.

This from a fellow whose job—Scout for the Detroit Tigers—was swept away by the suspension of so many leagues this year.

"There will be a lot of baseball because of the service camps and defense plants where former professional players will coach the youngsters, meanwhile picking up a little extra money playing at night and on week-ends," Morris observed.

Morris pointed out that the Texas league closed shop in July 1918, but when it resumed in 1919 it had its most prosperous year up to that time, and that from 1919 to 1927 attendance increased annually.

In 1927 the St. Louis Cardinals entered the league and soon after the war the St. Louis Browns and Detroit came in, Morris said, adding that since then the league had gone steadily downward. Therefore, he thinks if baseball is to return after the war something must be done to reestablish home ownership.

And he says this can be done if rule 2 of the major league agreement (providing that no major league club shall own or control more than 40 players at one time) is enforced.

Armstrong on Way Back by Licking Larkin

San Francisco, March 9 —(AP)—Game little Henry Armstrong is over another tough hurdle on a determined campaign to regain his manifold ring glories, and the way he polished off Tipsey Larkin in less than two rounds last night brought to mind his knock 'em out days of old.

Armstrong set the stage for his April 2 bout with the sensational Beau Jack in New York by knocking out Larkin in one minute and nine seconds of the second round in their scheduled 10 round scrap before some 8,000 fans in the civic auditorium.

Larkin, a Garfield, N. J., boy with an amazing string of victories, took the first round by a shade, using his obvious height advantage to put across a number of long left jabs and an occasional right.

But in the second round he dropped his guard for a brief instant, and Armstrong flashed in a right that spun the New Jersey boy around. A swift left hooked him and he sprawled on the canvas for the

Ocean Wave Ma Enter Arkansas Derby March 27

By FRED HAYDE

New Orleans, March 9 —(AP)—There's better than a fair chance that Warren Wright's Ocean Wave, which lost a heartbreaking nose decision to Amber Light in Saturday's Louisiana Derby, will seek consolation in the $10,000 added Arkansas Derby arch 2.

Trainer Ben Jones already has nominated the crack alumnus three-year-old for the Hot Springs mile and a furlong special. However, a final decision will not be made until Jones and Owner Wright, who is in Miami, confer.

"Ocean Wave would carry 123 pounds in the Arkansas Derby, according to the conditions, and we might decide to go there for the race," said Big Ben. "I don't know what horses we'd meet if we start. Ocean Wave came out of Saturday's event in good shape; I think, without that bad luck, he could have won even with more than 126 pounds on his back. In fact, he shouldn't have lost a race this winter."

"I'd say he's a nice colt, and he's sound. Of course, I don't think there's a three-year-old in the country with much chance to beat Cox Fleet in the Kentucky Derby if Mrs. Hertz's star continues to train well."

Nominations for the Arkansas Derby close tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the Fair Grounds track here ushers in its 15-day victory meeting this afternoon, with proceeds to go to war relief and charity funds.

By winning one race Saturday, which marked the end of the 71 day regular meeting, Harold Clark's Louisiana Farm stable wound up in a tie with the Shaffer-Howard combination's Coldstream stable for winners at that session. Each outfit had 24 victories.

Hot Springs, March 9 —(AP)—A field of eight outstanding three-year olds, including four nominees for the Kentucky Derby, will match strides here today in the $800 Memphis purse running. They will compete over six furlongs under allowance conditions.

Mrs. Janet Kelly's Beau of Mine, prominent Arkansas derby eligible and one of the Kentucky Derby nominees, is expected to be a favorite because of his two recent victories. However, Beau of Mine will share top weight of 113 pounds with five others.

Other derby nominees in the event include Happy Hour Farm's Iron Works, J. C. Bentley's Bring Me Home, and River Divide Farm's Dr. Rush.

The other entries are Silver Star Stable's Chipmunk, Darby. Dan Stable's Darby Danja, Mrs. Sovinski's Charter Member, and C. M. Priett's King Epitaph.

Allies Expect and Are Prepared for Another Attack

Analysis of the News by Mackenzie

Marshal Rommel's ill-fated assault on General Montgomery's British Eighth Army in front of the Axis fortified Mareth line represents an effort on the part of the Nazi "fox of the desert" to upset his arch enemy's preparations for another offensive, and it's quite in the cards that the Nazi leader may strike again.

It's significant that Montgomery's skill and strength still stay with him. That's more than luck. Rommel is one of the smartest generals of the day, but for the past six months he's been giving best to the Cromwellian-faced Briton who expressed the view to me not long ago in the Libyan desert that his adversary was a great soldier.

This fresh Axis reversal emphasizes the growing difficulties of the German defensive problem in the last narrow strip of northern Africa remaining to Hitler. The forces under Rommel in the south and General Von Arnim in the far north are in danger of being divided, or of getting caught in the huge Allied lemon-squeezer, which no escape except into the Mediterranean.

Montgomery, having routed Rommel at El Alamein in Egypt and driven the German pell-mell along the winding coastal road clear to Tunisia, is threatening aggressively from the south. British, American and French forces are pushing in

That Axis front will be smashed in due course, The Allies have suffered reverses, but nothing of a major nature. We might have hoped for better luck, and at the same time been warranted in expecting some worse.

When I left northern Africa the other day, military men didn't expect the Tunisian show to be long drawn out. However, they had no doubt that the Axis would give plenty of trouble, and that there would be tough fighting.

It mustn't be overlooked that the Axis is holding prepared positions with perhaps a quarter of a million troops. Those positions have been thoroughly organized for defense. The Mareth line, back of which Rommel is sitting, is particularly powerful.

Then too, while the United Nations forces are handicapped by extended lines of communication, northern Tunisia is the land nearest Sicily. Men and supplies have been moving across this narrow stretch of sea to Von Arnim and Rommel. By the same token, the airdromes of Sicily are so close that German warplanes can operate readily from them against the Allies.

All that sounds pretty formidable, and it is. It's doubly so because the Allies are the attacking party and have this initial disadvantage. We must make allowance for this and not expect magic.

However, the Allies are credited with having perhaps twice as many troops as the Axis. Moreover, while our supplies have to be brought in over long distances we are getting far more than the enemy. Although he is close to Sicily, the British navy and Allied warplanes are raising havoc with Axis transports. In other words we are piling up superior resources and striking power against Herr Hitler's minions.

Marshal Rommel and General Von Arnim are, of course, performing one of those rather thankless holding operations for their master. Their business is to hang on as long as they can in order to give him time to pull himself together on the continent. They don't expect to hold Tunisia, but know that sooner or later they will be driven into the Mediterranean.

We haven't heard a lot about Von Arnim, but Rommel seems to have been doing a workmanlike job on the whole. There are few generals who could have saved an army from annihilation on a 1,500-mile retreat with a victorious force at its heels.

By the way, Rommel is the only Nazi general I have heard spoken of in this war in terms of respect and even admiration by Allied officers. He has the reputation on the fighting front in North Africa of being a good sport.

Drafting of Manpower in Near Future

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

Washington, March 9.—(A) Convicted the administration is determined to boost the size of the armed forces to 10,800,000 by the year's end, congressional foes of military expansion saw increased prospects today of drafting civilian manpower to produce war supplies.

While the Senate military committee called for more testimony on the Austin - Wadsworth national service legislation from three witnesses, all expected to urge enactment, the Senate itself was confronted with another revision of a farm labor deferment bill excluding agriculture workers from the services only if they produce crops essential to war needs.

The measure was offered by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) to meet administration objections to his previous bill which called for deferment of all draft registrants engaged regularly in "an agricultural occupation."

Meantime, members of a Senate bloc who have appealed for a cut in military expansion plans on the ground the manpower left would be insufficient to produce the necessary food and supplies, acknowledged their appeals apparently were futile.

They referred to a report from an authoritative quarter disclosing that a special committee appointed by President Roosevelt had agreed that the goal of 10,800,000 in the armed forces should be achieved.

Bankhead, a member of the Senate appropriations committee, remarked that the only weapon left appeared to be the congressional

Brother Newsmen Are Hard Rivals

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

Memphis, Tenn. — (A) — The damns brothers are city editors of rival newspapers in a twopaper town.

Opposing each other in the daily battle for headlines are Malcolm Adams of the morning Commercial Appeal and his older brother, Bull, of the afternoon Press-Scimitar.

Both workers up to their present positions the hard way via the copy boy route. Both started on the same paper, the old Memphis News-Scimitar. Both get results. Bull with his booming voice; Malcolm, quietly. Both are married.

They meet infrequently, but at a gathering every Christmas "at Mother's."

But the Adams' don't have exclusive rights to family relations ships on Memphis newspapers. Bull has a reporter by the name of Hila McGee. She's married to — Lillard McGee, a reporter on Malcolm's paper.

purse strings which conceivably could be tightened sufficiently to cut off funds needed for military expansion.

Other members of the bloc, however, privately expressed doubt that the appropriations group could be persuaded to dare this step and theorized that the only solution to the manpower shortage in industry likely would be some compulsory mobilization similar to the Austin - Wadsworth proposal.

Bankhead contended that despite the war manpower commission's recent draft classifications designed to encourage a shift of men over 38 to the farms and the order to draft boards to defer farm workers individually, Congress should declare its intent to keep agricultural labor from the armed services.

Irish-Trojan Annual Grid Game Cancelled

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

Los Angeles, March 9.—(A) — One of the nation's greatest intersectional football rivalries became a war casualty today when cancellation of the Notre Dame and University of Southern California game for 1943 was announced. It had been scheduled for South Bend, Ind., November 20.

To be considered precious, a gem must possess beauty, rarity and durability.

"What is it we've got that Hitler hasn't?"

"HOW could U. S. War production rise higher in one year than Hitler's got in ten? I'm a petroleum chemist working on research, and I think I see how..."

"Take synthetic rubber."

"Germany started years ago to develop synthetic rubber because the Germans planned on a war and knew they'd have to have it."

"Here in the U. S. about a year ago, we lost our rubber supply almost overnight and without warning. Yet we're right now on the way to a better synthetic rubber industry than Germany will ever have!"

"Here in the Esso laboratories years ago we were developing processes for making synthetic rubber from petroleum. Processes you read about now in the big emergency synthetic rubber program.

"Now we didn't do that research for war. We did it for knowledge, in our regular hunt for new and better ways to use petroleum."

"What we did for petroleum, other companies did for other things. But the big point is—here 1500 research people work for one company just discovering new and useful things for the future."

"This war is proving, once again, that the American idea is the greatest force on earth. It's an idea Hitler will never understand. But a lot of people he's pushing around are going to share it and thank God for it before many more years go by!"

Developments Overnight in Legislature

Little Rock, March 9.—(A) — Overnight legislative developments:

Senate

Passed the governor's $250,000 war emergency fund and several other appropriation bills but, with the economy bloc strengthened over the weekend, blocked passage of several important appropriations. Administrationists laid the groundwork for a court test on the bloc's actions, pointing out in the journal that four senators are in the armed forces and this might reduce number of votes required for a three-fourth count.

House

Killed 2-22 the revenue department bill to tax trailers on their "pay load" rather than factory ratings. Also defeated the bill to repeal 10 day divorce law.

The Middleton bill giving the University Medical School $100,000 from liquor taxes struck a snag when the House refused to withdraw it from committee for immediate posting on the calendar.

Passed the Cluer bill rearranging terms of university trustees to conform with amendment 33.

Committees

Chairman Lee Baker said the House committee investigating the alleged non-collection of a five cents per gallon liquor license would drop its probe. He said an appropriation was needed and the attorney general had ruled the tax apparently was superseded by a 40 cents gallonage tax.

Absentee Marriage Declared Illegal

Little Rock, March 8.—(A) — Marriages performed in Arkansas between an absentee soldier and local girls by exchange of cables or written offer of marriage and acceptance will be illegal, Attorney General Guy E. Williams ruled today, in an opinion to the American Red Cross, Washington.
